BISHOP MCCOY WILL PRESIDE AT DISTRICT CONFERENCE

As will be seen by a notice elsewhere, the Dothan district conference will be held at the Foster St. church Dothan July 23-26, and Dr. W. P. Dickison the presiding elder writes that Bishop J. H. McCoy will preside. We believe that this will be the latter's first trip to the wire grass region. He will see a country that is making tremendous progress in development and our people of that section will have an opportunity to become acquainted with one of Southern Methodism's most splendid sons our own native born Bishop whom to know is always to love. They need not expect to see an old man a man of the world dignified and who holds him self aloof in his white whatever but so modest and unassuming is he and so youthful looking, that do not see that in any of the persons seen him for the first time might not even pick him out as a braggart so far as his dress goes. He was known to preach in 1871 or five at Greenboro, Ala., November 10, 1857 under Dr. Dickison as pastor—Alabama Christian Advocate.

Making Good Time On Young Building

Work of an 150 foot extension at the plant of the Dothan Chemical Company was completed Saturday and the new addition is about twice as high as the original building. The job was started a few weeks ago by Contractor Paulman.

WAR NEWS

Stages of the peace negotiations of beginning mediation proposed. It over came with representatives of the two governments present to the mediators this morning in one word came from members of the committee regarding the new plan but it is understood to have been originated by Ambassador Say and is approved by President Wilson.

Cheerfulness this morning replaced the gloom of last week and the mediators evidently expect a final result from conference which began today.

It is not believed in mind the world and third between the United States and Mexico that the rebels will be admitted to discuss the matter with the president.

Caribbean Representatives for Washington

For the June 21st three days really of conference among them General Calderon who has been succeeded as provisional president of Mexico by General Diaz, General Diaz from San Salvador, who gave his instructions from Caracas. They would not discuss the matter. It is reported they are Caribbeans due to the fact of conference.

Will to Make General Assembly on Zapatistas

Tomorrow from Villa's army General Alvaro Obregon, General Diaz and General Villa will be drawing in on Zapatista for a general assembly which will be held tonight. Villa has thirty thousand men and said this morning he expected to capture the city within three days which will be used in the conquest of Mexico City. Villa is the general who has been the split between him and Carranza.

MELANCHOLY WOMEN

Women should understand their melancholy commonly called the black. It is nine times out of ten a pure symptom of some organic disease which should have attention. For nearly forty years Lydia L. Linkham's Vegetable compound made from roots and herbs has been the standard remedy for such condition as is caused by many testimonies which we are continually publishing from women who have been restored to health by its use.

MAD AT PAINT

The ration for paint is about $2.50 on the average job and lots of men waited last year for that but they didn't receive the last and wouldn't pay it.

There are times to get a man to refuse to pay but when a property needs protecting it is to the man's credit and not paint.

Besides it costs more to get in and wait than to paint.

Getting paid doesn't do a great deal to your property, but don't you by keeping out water no water no rot no paint some water and rot and a little rot is more than enough to make a man shun towards his painted and paint.

Paint costs not a cent. All the paint in the world so long as it keeps out water, costs not a cent.

Henry Steagall is going to win in this congressional race, almost as easily as Oscar Malkey. It is time the candidates were coming from the lower end. Not since Oates' time have we down here had an opportunity of voting for a man from this position.

The Colonel says it's all a mistake; that he isn't thinking of running for president. Well, if he sticks to that, he's going to leave a whole bunch of people in a pickle, people counting on his running, and later reaping rewards, under his Jewish hand.

If Capt. Kolb is appointed president of the convict board, it will be another evidence that service doesn't go without reward. That man is getting along in years, and yet, he has endorsed about as many State warrants as most any other man living within the confines of dear old Alabama.

Another crime wave has struck Birmingham. We have contended all the time that the legislature should be called together in special session to let the State of Jefferson relieve herself from the fog system. But for the system of paying men instead of salaries, there's no telling how crime would fall off in Jefferson.

It is no easy to make political blunders. And the people are ready to see them. Don't think you can get one over on the people continually. They will wake up just at the right time to help administer a good whipping. The people can be trusted in most things. They settle their differences right in the long run. And when the people rise up, the politicians quake.

WORK IS NOT PLEASANT.

The whole city is thankful to the street committee of the city for the dragging given the streets the other day. But that isn't sufficient. The grader was run over the stumps and pulled sand in the low places, and drag the soda water bottles, old shoes, brick bats and tin cans out of the ditch and left them in the center of the street. It makes the street look a good deal better, but the improvement is not permanent. There are holes in the streets that will be there till they are remedied.

And to remedy them, they must be filled up with clay, so that when they are packed down there will be no holes. The sand dragged in the holes will not stay, and instead of getting better, they will get just a little bit worse. Now that the rainy season is here, it is to be hoped that the street committee will ride up and down those streets till they can conclusively see just what to do to do, and put a crew of hands on them.

Dothan Street, St. Andrews Street, and others, are three that are in bad shape, running north and south and then Main, Washington, Crawford, Savannah, Lafayette, Troy, Adams, Burdenaw and Newton are some that need attention running east and west. But the streets that are traveled most should receive first attention.

A FINE FREE SHOW.

Commercial appeal.

Electricity is a field of mystery and marvels. Men can control it, but do not understand it.

Enough electricity can be sent from a generating plant through a wire not larger than a thread to move the machinery of a battleship. Under control it is more deadly than water. With control lost it is more destructive than the forces of the sea.

Wrap the world around 25 times with a continuous strand of wire and a signal can pass 25 times around the world to the point of sending in less than a second.

Electricity can be carried around in form. Cut one of its channels of passage, and it disappears. Slightly interrupt its free movement and it creates light. Electricity is one of the choicest gifts of nature to man.

A hundred years ago men skilled in physics knew scarcely enough about it to name it.

Electricity furnishes light, moves locomotives, lifts elevators and heats ears. It runs fans, makes curling from hot and warming the milk bottles, the contents of which modern mothers give to their babies.

Electricity gives healthful baths and is taking the place of the hangman's noose. Electricity enables the X-ray man to see the interior of man's body and also enables the struck ship at sea to send a signal of distress on the wings of the night.

One should visit the free electric show in the Lowenstein building, given by the enterprising electrical engineers and business men of Memphis engaged in the manufacture and selling of those things wherein electricity is used.

You will find there the running gear of the street cars upon which you ride. You will be told that the electrical equipment for one car costs about $2,500.

Nearly you will find fans which if you put a nickel in the slot will start to run and run until you are asleep and then stop.

Further along, you will find an old farm pump run by an electric engine. Then you will find a refrigerator kept cool by an electric device.

Toward the end of the hall a young boy is operating a wireless telegraph machine.

There are electric toys which generate light in such a peculiar way that as they are shot out of a tube they look like illuminated balls of cotton.

In another part of the building is an electric machine which cooks toast.

The exhibition is the finest free entertainment which has been offered to the people of Memphis within our recollection. It is a most instructive exhibition in the far-reaching uses of electricity.

SPORTING NEWS

By Frank G. Metke.

Poughkeepsie about three weeks before the big boat races, they will usually have to spend about a week getting their quarters in shape. No one pays any real attention as to what kind of water they drink. And no one carefully examines into every bit of food they eat.

But with Cornell it is different. A week or so before the boys are to go to Poughkeepsie for the final two or three weeks of training on the Hudson, "Mother" Courtney journeys up to Poughkeepsie, invades the Cornell quarters and aided and abetted by a squad of women puts the place in a spot and span condition. When the boys arrive, everything is ready for them.

Mrs. Courtney, under the direction of the chemist, analyzes the water each year. If it isn't quite up to the standard it is rejected. In that neighborhood, Courtney has a big supply shipped from Ithaca—the kind of water that the boys are used to drinking. It has been found in numerous occasions that a change in drinking water has so affected the general health of a crew that it has wrecked their chances.

Mrs. Courtney takes care of the job of ordering the food. She sees to it that every bit of food that comes into the quarters for consumption by the boys is fresh and just exactly what she has ordered. And she supervises the cooking, making sure that everything is Down at the boathouse, John Hoyle, assistant to Courtney, and a famous boat builder, sees to it that before the boys get into a shell everything is in perfect shape.

Every whit of rigging must fit. The seats must slide just right. The shoes must be of exactly the right kind and fit. Not the slightest detail in getting the boat ready is ever overlooked by Hoyle, for he knows that if he does the eagle eye of Courtney will spot it in a fraction of a second.

Therefore, is it any wonder that Cornell, so thoroughly trained and so perfectly conditioned, so often triumphs over rivals who seem to outclass them in natural rowing ability and in endurance powers?

CLUB WOMEN DISCUSS DRESS REFORM

At the biennial convention of the General Federation of Women's Clubs held a few days ago in Chicago, the subject of dress was discussed at length. Many interesting ideas were advanced. Mrs. Robert J. Burdette, of Pasadena, Cal., said: "With forbidden knowledge came self-conceit, and with self-conceit came the noise of shame and the protective garment—and thus did the transgressions of our first parents cover all future generations with a blanket of clothes which we are paying off with heavy interest."

"Whether clothes were first worn as an ornamental covering or for protection matters little, for we seem even to this day to consider the first or prime importance. No matter if the neck be exposed nearly to the waist line and the limb nearly half way to the knee, if only the style be followed, health and suggestiveness are lost sight of in the craze to be in fashion."

Mr. and Mrs. E. Hilton of Dothan, Ga., spent Sunday here the guests of their daughter, Mrs. J. S. Sherman.
